MC / Entertainer Biography

Johnson&Laird

Raybon Kan is an award-winning comedian, speaker and writer, whose work has taken him around the world. He's performed at global comedy festivals in Montreal, Edinburgh and Melbourne, and is the author of three books; An Asian At My Table, 5 Days in Las Vegas and America On 5 Bullets A Day. The combination of Raybon's incredible intelligence and sharp humour has seen him MC events across the spectrum, from the world premiere of the final Lord of the Rings film to industry-leading events such as the Axis Awards. He has entertained audiences as diverse as the All Blacks and Olympic athletes to conferences of surgeons and lawyers. Whether it's a glamorous red carpet event, industry conference, charity fundraiser or graduation keynote address, Raybon will guarantee it's an unforgettable night.

Testimonials.

"That Raybon Kan holds our attention and keeps us laughing for 80 minutes that seem like 40 is a good indication of his talent. He offers extraordinary ways of seeing the ordinary." - John Smythe

- National Business Review

"Kan is an endearing performer, boyish and self-deprecating, yet not in the slightest bit needy. Some of his material is very dark and some is as light as air, and most of it works. A highlight of the festival."

- Fiona Scott-Norman

- The Age, Melbourne

"The thinking woman's comedian. Must-see, nerve-wrenching white knuckle comedy" - Tash McGill

- Auckland Scene

"He has made live comedy his own. It's easy to be swept along for a roller-coaster ride that also provokes some serious thought."
- Nigel Benson

- Otago Daily Times

Testimonials continued...

"He has a ready wit, an engaging personality with bags of charm, and the true comedian's ability to take the ordinary, the mundane, the unnoticed, and turn it into the bizarre. "

- The Press, Christchurch
